Since 2006, Glow Hire has been trusted by South Africa's creative industry to provide professional production equipment, exceptional studio spaces and dependable support for projects of every scale. With gear houses and studios in Johannesburg and Cape Town, we've built our reputation on quality, reliability and a genuine passion for the craft. But Glow has always been about more than the gear.

Behind every production is a team of passionate people bringing ideas to life, the photographers, filmmakers, directors, producers, cinematographers, camera assistants, gaffers, sparks, grips, lighting technicians, stylists, editors, students and countless others who make this industry what it is. They're the reason we're here.

Our purpose is to give every creative the confidence to create without limits. Whether that's through industry-leading equipment, inspiring studio spaces or simply sharing our knowledge and experience, we're committed to removing barriers so great ideas have every opportunity to become reality.

We believe creativity grows through community. That's why we're passionate about supporting, educating and empowering South African creatives at every stage of their journey, creating an environment where collaboration is encouraged, opportunities are created and every person, regardless of their role, feels valued.

At Glow Hire, we're more than a gear house.

We're a creative partner, a trusted resource and a team that's committed to helping any and all creatives
